NEW QUESTION: 3

- A. Option E
- B. Option B
- C. Option C
- D. Option D
- E. Option A

Answer: B,E

Explanation:

NOT C Unable to install a server given this management role The Exchange Servers management role enables administrators to do the following on individual servers: Add and remove database availability groups and configure database copies Enable, disable and configure Unified Messaging services Modify transport configuration on Mailbox and Client Access servers Enable and disable Microsoft Outlook Anywhere on Client Access servers Modify Mailbox and Client Access server configuration Modify Outlook Anywhere configuration on Client Access servers Modify content filtering configuration on Mailbox servers Modify general Exchange server configuration Modify server monitoring configuration View the configuration for each server role

This management role is one of several built-in roles in the Role Based Access Control (RBAC) permissions model in Microsoft Exchange Server 2013. Management roles, which are assigned to one or more management role groups, management role assignment policies, users, or universal security groups (USG), act as a logical grouping of cmdlets or scripts that are combined to provide access to view or modify the configuration of Exchange 2013 components, such as mailbox databases, transport rules, and recipients. If a cmdlet or script and its parameters, together called a management role entry, are included on a role, that cmdlet or script and its parameters can be run by those assigned the role. For more information about management roles and management role entries, see Understanding Management Roles.

NOT D No need to create a new management role

NOT E Need to use the /NewProvisionedServer parameter setup /roles command is OK for exchange 2007

With temp1 appears to be an invalid command and not applicable to exchange 2013

A

To delegate setup, you must first run Setup.com from a Command Prompt window with the

NewProvisionedServer parameter.

This will not install Exchange on the server, but instead will create a placeholder object for the server in Active Directory and will add the machine account for this server to the Exchange Servers group.

B

Need to Add Temp1 to the Delegated Setup management role group.

Delegated Setup management role group

The Delegated Setup management role group is one of several built-in role groups that make up the Role Based Access Control (RBAC) permissions model in Microsoft Exchange

Server 2013.

Role groups are assigned one or more management roles that contain the permissions required to perform a given set of tasks. The members of a role group are granted access to the management roles assigned to the role group. For more information about role groups, see Understanding Management Role Groups.

Administrators who are members of the Delegated Setup role group can deploy servers running Exchange 2013 that have been previously provisioned by a member of the Organization Management role group.

Members of the Delegated Setup role group can only deploy Exchange 2013 servers. They can't manage the server after it's been deployed.

To manage a server after it's been deployed, a user must be a member of the Server

Management role group.

For more information about RBAC, see Understanding Role Based Access Control.
